

November 24, 2004

RE: Wellington School

This email is to clear any confusion regarding the installation of a play structure at Wellington School by Ken Crozier of Crozier Agencies.

Ken and his company did an excellent job of consulting, planning and installing a large play structure at Wellington School. The structure was long awaited and is located at a high traffic playground. It is played on daily and by many children.

The whole process was a rewarding one and Mr. Crozier's company and Ken himself were professional and credible in their dealing with Parent Council, school division employees and the school administration. One example is that shortly after installation a vandal took the trapeze handles on the s-curve. Ken replaced those at his own expense to allow the children to use the structure in a safe manner.

I recommend Ken Crozier as a reputable installer and provider of a high quality play structure.

Roger Le Grand/Principal Faraday School
Winnipeg, Manitoba